Sphere 3D Corp. and Gryphon Digital Mining, Inc. Move Forward After Mutual Agreement Not to Proceed With Merger

April 4, 2022

- The companies plan to continue working on existing strategic initiatives, including the management of Sphere 3D's 6.0 EH/s mining fleet, which Sphere 3D expects to be operational by year-end 2022

TORONTO, Ontario--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Apr. 4, 2022-- Sphere 3D Corp. (Nasdaq: ANY), ("Sphere 3D") and Gryphon Digital Mining, Inc. ("Gryphon"), cryptocurrency mining companies dedicated to growing mining operations with a net carbon-neutral impact, have mutually agreed to terminate their merger agreement announced on June 3, 2021, and as amended on December 29, 2021.

After careful consideration by both management teams and their respective boards of directors, the parties amicably agreed to the termination due to changing market conditions, the passage of time, and the relative financial positions of the companies, among other factors. The companies will continue their relationship through the previously disclosed Master Services Agreement ("MSA"), enabling Sphere 3D to leverage Gryphon's expertise in bitcoin mining and Gryphon to generate additional operating income through the management of Sphere 3D's mining fleet. Both companies can now focus on their strategic opportunities to drive growth for their respective shareholders.

Sphere 3D's net- carbon neutral bitcoin mining operation continues to grow with 1,000 miners currently operational and the anticipated delivery of 2,000 S19j Pro miners in May 2022 and an additional 2,000 S19j Pro miners in June 2022. Deliveries of the remaining 55,000 S19j Pro miners are expected to be received by year-end 2022. As previously announced, Sphere 3D's mining fleet will remain managed by Gryphon and primarily collocated with Core Scientific.

Gryphon continues to roll out its net carbon-neutral bitcoin mining operation, with two-thirds of its 7,200 S19j Pro self-mining operation deployed as of March 31, 2022. The MSA enables Gryphon to earn additional hashrate exposure of 1.35 exahash through the management of Sphere 3D's 6.0 exahash mining fleet, creating Gryphon's expected effective unlevered total hashrate from self-mining and MSA operations of approximately 2.1 exahash of bitcoin mining power by year-end 2022.

"Sphere 3D remains committed to building a premier industrial mining operation and already has 6.0 EH/s of capacity under contract for deliveries this year. We are well-positioned to execute on this vision," said Duncan McEwan, Chairman of Sphere 3D. "The Board has worked closely with our management team, and after extensive discussions, it became clear that shareholders would realize greater value if the companies operated independently as opposed to a merged entity. We look forward to working closely with the Gryphon team to combine our expertise and realize the immense value of the bitcoin network for our shareholders."

Rob Chang, CEO at Gryphon Digital Mining added, "As a pending shareholder and operating partner of Sphere 3D, we look forward to the mutual success of both companies. With a substantial unlevered total hashrate from our self-mining and MSA operations, Gryphon is well-positioned as it already ranks among the leading bitcoin miners in the world."
